CARE OF STAINLESS STEEL

- Ensure your sink is rinsed thoroughly after each use. Regular cleaning will keep the stainless steel looking it's best.
- Use a dry, soft, absorbent cloth, dry your sink after use, preventing any mineral deposits in the water from building up on the surface of the sink.
- Using a glass cleaner on your sink can enhance your sinks shine.
- Ensure specialised stainless steel polishing creams are used to make scratches less noticeable.
- Don't leave fruits or juices on the sink.
- Wipe them immediately to avoid citric acid etching the surface.
- Don't leave harsh chemicals like chlorine/chloride on stainless steel surfaces.
- Don't leave soap, wet sponges or other cleaning pads on the surface of your sink. These items can dull and possibly pit the surface finish.
- Don't store chemicals like acid/chlorine/bleaches etc under stainless steel kitchen or laundry sinks. The fumes from these items may damage the sink from underneath.
